TO TEACH RUSSIAN IN BIG COLLEGES

[Republican A. P. Leased Wire]

SEATTLE, Sept. 24.—Endowment of a chair of Russian language and literature at the University of Washington by Samuel Hill, millionaire son-in-law of the late James J. Hill, was announced today by Dr. Henry Suzzallo, president of the university.

Mr. Hill, who returned recently from a trip to Russia, reached the decision to endow the chair while at Petrograd and cabled his offer to Dr. Suzzallo. The proposal was accepted by the university and Mr. Hill was authorized to engage an instructor. Before leaving Russia he arranged with Miss Helene Simon, of Petrograd, to take the position. Miss Simon arrived today from Vladivostok and will begin her work at the university tomorrow.

In making the offer, Mr. Hill said that he believed commercial relations between the Pacific coast and Russia would increase in importance after the close of the war among nations in Russia at the university would assist this development.

NO SPLIT IN THE SOCIALIST PARTY

[Republican A. P. Leased Wire]

BERLIN (via London), Sept. 24.—The socialist national conference did not bring the predicted split in the party. The radical representatives, after the rejection of their resolution, declaring that the conference was not entitled to answer on questions of policy, refrained from voting on further resolutions presented, but did not bolt the conference. The majority, which was behind the regular party organization, remained from taking action which would enforce a rupture.

The relative strength of the factions was shown by the roll call on the radical resolution, 275 members supporting the regular organization, while the radicals mustered 163 votes. The conference then adopted resolutions approving votes on the war credits by socialist members of the reichstag and condemning the war and action of a part of the reichstag group which led to a split of the socialist representation in the reichstag.

The conference also passed the so-called David peace resolution. The Vorwarts, discussing the conference from the standpoint of the minority, says the unity of the party is assured through the conference, the result of which was a compromise allowing binding decisions on the party's policy to be put off until the regular national convention which is to be held after the war.

The peace resolution declared that Germany should not be forced through internal agencies to seek a peace which did not guarantee to her the territorial and industrial rights which were hers before the war, but that since the war should not be looked upon in the light of an attempt to gain territory by conquest, no honorable means of obtaining peace should be overlooked.

AMERICAN RY. SECURITIES ARE BEING ABSORBED

[Republican A. P. Leased Wire]

NEW YORK, Sept. 24.—A further increase of $307,881,666 in the amount of American railroad securities abroad absorbed by American financial interests and individual holders between July 31, 1915, and July 31, 1916, is shown in the latest compilation prepared by L. F. Loeve, president of the Delaware and Hudson company.

Data collected by Mr. Loeve from 165 railroad companies whose securities were held in part abroad fixes the total par value of these stocks, bonds, notes, car trust and receivers' certificates so held in July 1915 at $2,704,492,364. Six months later the total had fallen to $2,323,510,229 and the compilation of July 31 last, discloses an additional reduction to $1,415,628,563.

From January 31, 1915, to July 31, 1916, the total amount (par value), of these securities held abroad was reduced by no less than $1,288,732,801.

These figures, according to Mr. Loeve, form an accurate measure of the "foreign liquidation" which so long has been going on and indicate the pressing needs of the financial institution, corporations and individuals in the various countries of the entente allies.

IDENTIFY BODY BY THE SKULL

[Republican A. P. Leased Wire]

NEW YORK, Sept. 24.—Through the phenomenal ingenuity of Grant Williams, a lieutenant of police here, the authorities announced tonight they had established the identity of a man's skeleton unearthed at Canarsie on September 12 and had made an arrest in connection with their efforts to solve an alleged murder mystery.

According to the police, Lieutenant Williams studied the bones of the skull and its contour and with modelling wax moulded a face on the skull to resemble as closely as possible the face of the man in life, without having a description of him.

Receiving a feud at Canarsie several years ago, persons who were familiar with some of those involved were brought to police headquarters to look at the face the lieutenant had made in wax identification. In a dimly lighted room, the head was uncovered and the astonished group told the police it resembled Dominick Laresee, who disappeared in November, 1914. He had been wounded in a revolver fight before he dropped from sight.

SUGGESTION IN CRIMINAL CASE

[Republican A. P. Leased Wire]

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Sept. 24.—The effect psychological suggestion may have on the testimony of witnesses in criminal cases which come to trial long after the acts alleged, will be described in court by Professor Hugo Munsterberg of Harvard university during the trial of Albert J. Roper, of Boston, charged with the murder of his father, Albert Roper, of Tewksbury, a florist of national reputation. William H. Wilson, senior counsel for the defense, made this announcement today in explanation of the daily presence in the courtroom of Professor Munsterberg, who is director of the psychological laboratory at Harvard.

"This case is going to be one of the most interesting in years from a psychological standpoint of view," said Attorney Wilson, "especially in its bearing on the attempt to build up criminal cases months after an event has occurred. It will be interesting to consider how this is done. I believe the phase of the case affecting mental suggestion will develop facts of permanent scientific value."

PRIMARIES IN JERSEY TUESDAY

[Republican A. P. Leased Wire]

TRENTON, N. J., Sept. 24.—Preference primaries in New Jersey will be held Tuesday. The progressives as a party will not participate in the primaries because the party failed to poll 5 per cent of the total vote in the last election, and under the state law are excluded from nominating candidates.

Former Governor Franklin Murphy and former State Senator Joseph S. Frelinghuysen are the contestants for the republican senatorial nomination, and State Senators Walter E. Edge, Austin Colgate and George L. Record are the republican candidates for governor.

Interest in the democratic primary centers in the fight of United States Senator James E. Martine for renomination. Attorney General John W.

KIBBEY AND CAMPBELL WILL SPEAK AT Y STADIUM TONIGHT

Judge J. H. Kibbey, Arizona's most noted exponent of the fundamental principles of democracy, republican candidate for United States senator; Tom Campbell, Yavapai's "favorite son," republican candidate for governor, and the entire state republican ticket will join in the monster campaign rally to be held this evening at 8 o'clock in the Y. M. C. A. stadium.

The vital issues of the present campaign, perhaps the most important political contest ever held in the state, will be discussed by the various candidates. Local people will have an opportunity of becoming acquainted with every candidate on the republican ticket.

In view of the marked prominence of Judge Kibbey and Thomas E. Campbell and their known ability as orators, it is expected that the largest political gathering in the history of Maricopa county will be in attendance. Elaborate preparations for the rally have been completed.

The meeting is being held under the direction of the Phoenix Republican club in conjunction with a score of smaller republican organizations that will all turn out for the session in a body.

At 7:30 o'clock this evening the republicans will gather at the city hall plaza where, under the direction of Parade Marshal Ernest Anderson, they will march in a body to the stadium. All of the state candidates will be in the parade.

To Mark Opening
Although several campaign addresses have already been made by the candidates in a few of the state's towns, this evening's meeting will mark the opening of the whirlwind campaign to be conducted by the grand old party in Arizona. In the opinion of many men and women who are familiar with state political conditions, it will culminate in a republican victory.

Westcott is Senator Martine's personal relative. Naval Officer H. Otto Wittmann of New York, who lives in Jersey City, is opposed to the democratic gubernatorial nomination.

POSTAL DEPOSITS INCREASE

[Republican A. P. Leased Wire]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—Deposits in postal savings banks during August increased nearly $5,000,000, the largest monthly gain since the system was established. On September 1, a total of 621,000 depositors had accounts aggregating more than $94,000,000 to their credit.

PROSECUTOR IS CHARGED WITH WIFE MURDER

Daniel's only remark was, "All right." He requested the officers not to call for the patrol wagon, and walked two miles to the police station.

Bart Lockwood, special prosecutor appointed by the criminal court to investigate the case, declared that several new witnesses had brought new light into the case.

Following an announcement last week that it could not legally pay the expenses of a special prosecutor and a corps of detectives to investigate the murder, an appeal was made by the special attorney to the public for funds with which to carry on the investigation. Contributions were asked to be sent in care of the police department and newspapers. An offer was made by McDaniel to aid financially in the search for the slayer.

The slayer has three children, the eldest a boy of 14 years.

Domestic trouble will be the motive which the state will endeavor to establish, according to a statement by Lockwood last night. Among the new witnesses will be one who it is said is expected to testify that Mrs. McDaniel telephoned the lodge room where her husband was supposed to be spending the evening of July 13 and discovered he was not there. Lockwood announced that the theory of the state was the incident culminated in a quarrel during which Mrs. McDaniel was killed by her husband who then changed clothes and drove to town in an effort to prove an alibi and had received no decoy telephone call and fired the shots which he says were fired at him.

McDaniel met the assertion of the state's theory with a calm smile. At first he refused to make any statement whatever, but when pressed with questions answered some of them with the remark that he intended to vote the democratic ticket in November.

He was asked the direct question if he denied killing his wife.

"Yes, I do," he replied with emphasis.

train, took their baptism of fire calmly as they passed, and heaved a sigh of relief as the reports diminished in the distance.

The commander and twenty members of the crew of the Zeppelin, which was forced to land near an Essex coast town, were arrested by the village constable as they were marching along the road in the blackness of the night, according to the latest eye witness account.

"I am the commander of a German airship that has just come down, and these are my crew," said the leader of the men when accosted by the constable. Then the officer added: "Please allow me to go to the nearby postoffice that I may telephone some one in London who will let my wife know I am safe."

At this juncture special constables came up and the prisoners were marched to the nearest detention camp, where it was found several of them were wounded. All the men were life saving waistcoats. None of them bore arms.

The village constable in telling later of the coming down of the Zeppelin, said that after hearing the noise overhead, he saw the airship flying seaward, 200 feet up. Then the commander of the ship apparently fearing trouble on the water, turned back in land and in a few minutes the airship landed in a farmer's orchard. Two loud explosions followed, then a flare of a few seconds duration. The airship commander marched the men to the farmer's house, but the occupants of the house were too frightened to answer the knock so the Germans took to the road where they encountered the constable. It is believed engine trouble forced the descent of the Zeppelin.

Twelve Grimsby trawlers were sunk in the North sea by German submarines about the time the Zeppelins raided England. This leads to the belief that U. boats accompanied the

A victory for the party that stands for a permanent and constructive governmental administration.

Judge Kibbey, who is the principal member of the first republican campaign party, has been drawing unusually large and appreciative audiences throughout the southwest part of the state where he has made several addresses. Already he has placed his democratic opponent on the defensive.

Arizona's most popular former governor told large audiences how the democratic senator has saved over $7,000 in mailing out campaign literature which was paid for by the people. He has handed them "a man of few words and no material accomplishments in behalf of his constituents." And in support of his charges Judge Kibbey points to the record of Senator Ashurst—a record devoid of achievements for the people of his state who placed confidence in him at his election. But now, throughout the southwest part of Arizona, in particular, there is manifestly a different sentiment expressed among the people. They are unanimous in their declaration that they want a man of deeds and not a man who continues his "policy" when he is out of the senate of the United States. And Kibbey, as his long career of public usefulness will bear evidence, is the man who, at all times, has made the people his first consideration.

Among the other candidates who will make addresses at this evening's meeting are the following: Judge Otis J. Bunch, of Florence; Joe V. Prochaska, of Miami; George H. Smalley, of Tucson; Doane Merrill, of Benson; Norman J. McKenzie, of Bisbee; John A. Campbell, candidate for state treasurer; J. Morris Chaffin, of Red Rock; Henry L. Eads, John L. Just and Harrison E. Matthews, of Phoenix.

airships to afford them a certain amount of protection while crossing the water.

The Greek government has sent another note to Berlin protesting against the capture by the Bulgarians of the Greek infantry at Florina, says Reuter's Athens correspondent.

The British official statement issued shortly before midnight says: "South of the Ancre the enemy made three attacks on our line west of Loos. He was driven back with heavy losses."

Five bombing raids were carried out Saturday by our airmen and much damage was inflicted. One of our aviators collided with an opponent whose machine fell vertically. Our machine fell several thousand feet, but its pilot regained control and re-entered the line safely. In all, five enemy machines were destroyed Saturday and two others were driven down, damaged.

"Five of our machines are missing."

The French Statement
PARIS, Sept. 24. (via London, Sept. 25).—The communication issued by the war office says:

Saturday night, seven of our aeroplanes dropped bombs on factory districts of Rombach and Thionville (Alsace Lorraine). Captain De Beauchamp and Lieutenant Beaumont each piloted a machine, started at 11 o'clock Sunday morning and dropped twelve bombs on Essen and Westphalia. They returned safely after a flight of 500 miles.

"Friday night a Zeppelin flew over the Calais district. It was driven off without having dropped any projectiles."

"One the Somme front there were 23 aerial engagements. Four enemy planes were brought down."

"Four enemy aeroplanes were compelled to descend in the own lines. Between Chaulnes and Havy, six Germans were brought down. They fell near Arras, one in our lines."

"A Fokker fell flaming near our lines north of Cambrai."

"In the Verdun region machine guns winged a German at close quarters. The machine descended on the ground and the pilot fell into our lines east of Michiel."

"In Lorraine a French pilot pursued a German for a distance of 12 miles into the German line, killed the passenger and compelled the machine to descend. Another enemy machine descended in the forest of Gamsey. Two enemy machines fell into our lines after fighting our pilots."

Greece Ready to Fight

ATHENS, Friday, Sept. 22.—(Via London, Sept. 24).—All Athenian newspapers comment on the latest declaration made by King Constantine of Greece to the Associated Press yesterday, in which his majesty said that Greece was ready to join the entente allies whenever she could see definite and certain advantages to doing so.

The Hesperian, an anti-Venezelos organ, devotes a four-column editorial to the declaration of the king. The author of the editorial is Nicholas Stratos, minister of marine last year in the cabinet of Premier Gounaris. M. Stratos takes each sentence as a text for the elucidation of a pro-war policy, stating it is evident that the Greek king is seeking an "entente" and means to depart from a neutral course. The ex-minister, who heretofore was a most ardent opponent of war, declares openly:

"The country can no further depend on the diplomatic assurances of the central powers, and must enter the war by national action."

With Agamemnon Schellermann, the Green minister at Washington in 1914, M. Stratos has formed a new anti-Venezelos party. One of the foremost political figures in Greece said to the Associated Press today:

"The king instead of bargaining for Greece's entry into the war, is merely being sensible enough not to enter until in a position to be of real value to the entente allies. We have made our proposition to the entente powers, stating frankly what we require if we would not be more trouble than assistance."

The German Statement
BERLIN, Sept. 24. (By wireless to Sayville).—Recently addressing the representatives of the German economic university, Dr. Karl Helfferich, secretary of the interior said:

"Nobody can deny that Germany suffers heavily under the British criticisms of commercial war and that the German nation in the third year war was to sustain the greatest sacrifices and privation, but the exceptionally bad harvest last year proved that Germany cannot be vanquished by famine."

Dr. Helfferich declared that in spite of the mobilization of millions of men for war the industries of the country maintain a high position.

Beginning October 1, says the Overseas News Agency, the salaries of German officers will be reduced by 1000 marks a month and lieutenants by 600 marks.

Married officers and those who have parents depending upon them are al-

The Austrian Statement
VIENNA, (Via London) Sept. 24.—The Austrian war office today made public the following official communication:

The Rumanian front: In the region of the Vulcan pass we repulsed a Rumanian attack.

The enemy stubbornly continued attacks east and north of Kribbas (Carpathians). East of the town his masses, after a slight success were stopped and further attacks repulsed. Southwest of Luczine, Saturday, Russian attacks failed. Near Ludova we overcame advantages the enemy had gained in recent fighting.

"Between Zborov and the upper Sereth (in Galicia) Russians again attacked. They succeeded in breaching our line northeast of Perzhenki. A counter attack regained the positions for us."

Uprising Near Varmos
ATHENS, Sept. 23 (Via London, Sept. 24).—Reports from Crete say that the uprising in the neighborhood of Varmos resulted in a conflict outside of Herakleion, which the insurgents entered. Several persons were killed or wounded and the Greek civil authorities were turned out.

The British have disembarked marines at Canea, where a meeting of protest against the government policy was held this morning. The insurgents are said to surround the city.

Revolution Spreading
LONDON, Sept. 25.—An Athens dispatch to the Daily Telegraph says the Cretan revolution is spreading and threats are occurring in all the provinces.

At Herakleion, Candia (crete) after feeble resistance by the garrison, the revolutionists abolished the civil authorities and became masters of the town.

The insurgents, the dispatch adds, number 11,000, fully armed, of whom 7000 are concentrated in the district of Canea.

Ambulances Accepted
PETROGRAD, Sept. 24. (Via London, Sept. 25).—Fifteen motor ambulances of the field hospital presented by a group of Americans were formally accepted today by Queen Alexandra and Grand Duchess Tatiana.

The presentation was made by Captain Philip Lydell and Dr. Philip Newton.

The ambulances were lined up in front of the palace at Tsarskoe Selo when the empress and the Grand Duchesses Tatiana and Olga, dressed in the simple costume of hospital nurses, appeared and inspected them, expressing their appreciation and thanks. Following the ceremony the ambulances passed in review before the members of the imperial
